

SPANISH BASES ANCHOR MEDITERRANEAN DEFENSE—Soon-to-be-acquired bases in Spain, along with those now in operation around the Mediterranean (shown in white area on above Newsmag), would act as defense anchors for the western allies. They run from Turkey in the east, to the Iberian Peninsula in the west. The bases in Spain could act as steppingstones for bombers on stabs deep into the Soviet heartland. Because they are located behind the protective land barrier of the Pyrenees Mountains, and beyond the range of Russian MIG's, enemy aircraft would have to fly over much western soil and would be much easier to intercept.

Reds Send Flossy POW Propaganda To Mother In Lansing

LANSING (AP)—A flossy piece of Communist propaganda, telling of "lenient" treatment given United Nations prisoners of war captured in Korea, has been received by the mother of a returned Lansing POW.

The profusely illustrated "information booklet" was received by Mrs. Fred Brockhaus, mother of Sgt. Fred Brockhaus, who spent three years in a Communist prison camp.

Can't Fool Mom
Sgt. Brockhaus, after angrily branding the entire booklet "a pack of lies," threw it in a waste basket. "The most stupid part of the whole deal," he said, "is that the Communists are dumb enough to send this junk to my mother after I return home. They might be able to fool some of the people, but not my mom after I told her how I was treated."

The booklet was published by the Chinese People's Committee for World Peace, Peking, China. It was mailed from the offices of the Britain-China Friendship Association in London, England.

Pictures in the booklet are "fakes or setups" according to Sgt. Brockhaus. Those not fakes have misleading captions, he said.

One picture, showing U. N. soldiers getting injections, peddles the lie that the United States waged germ warfare, he said.

Posed With Smiles
"These injections are necessary," the caption reads, "to prevent the spread of disease—especially with germ warfare being waged by United States forces."

The introduction says that every U. N. prisoner was assured a bill of rights" promising him security of life, retention of all personal belongings, freedom from maltreatment or abuse and medical care.

The booklet is jammed with pictures of U. N. soldiers smiling or writing letters home.

"They were forced to pose," said the sergeant.

Under the title of "a scrumptious chicken, mashed potatoes, beef stew, apple turnover, doughnuts, butter and jam the Chinese claims were served prisoners at Christmas."

"I spent two Christmases at that camp," the sergeant said, "and I never saw any of that stuff."

Year 1954 Brings First Real Test Of GOP Regime

By DON WHITEHEAD
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—The year 1954 shapes up as the first real test of the Republican administration and President Eisenhower's personal strength as the nation's chief executive.

The Republicans, most of them concede, got off to a slow start toward carrying out their campaign promises of 1952. Whether this has meant any loss of voter confidence is a subject for partisan debate.

Time Running Out
Those who take a sympathetic view toward the administration argue:

The Republicans couldn't reasonably be expected overnight to shift the direction of government and switch or strengthen policies which had been 20 years under Democratic management. Newcomers had to have time to familiarize themselves with their jobs. Studies had to be made of the problems at hand before intelligent decisions could be reached. A working arrangement had to be set up between the White House and Congress.

Time is running out on this period of adjustment. Final decisions must be made on legislation dealing with defenses, taxes, farm price supports, housing, social security, labor-management.

Under the terms of the new administration, the nation's health insurance system. Court observers doubted that Warren's appointment would change the balance on that body now considered largely conservative.

Talk Of Sales Tax On Manufacturers Stirs Up Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several congressional Democrats opened fire today against any Eisenhower administration proposal for a national sales or excise tax at the manufacturers' level.

In the wake of President Eisenhower's news conference Wednesday, they decried such a tax, using adjectives like "dangerous" and "burdensome" and "discriminatory."

They said the man in the street probably would find himself harder hit by a manufacturer-level tax than by a retail-level tax.

Eisenhower Applauded
"For years," the President told newsmen Wednesday, "I personally have put my adverse conclusions on such a tax (retail sales) so far as the federal government is concerned."

"The Treasury Department has made a study, however, and they find that all of the logic in the situation is that this is a field that belongs to local municipalities and not to the federal government."

That part of Eisenhower's statement drew a round of general applause from members of Congress. But Democratic objections arose to replies in which he declined to rule out a sales tax at the manufacturers' level.

There is little if any difference between an excise tax—sometimes called a "luxury tax," as on jewelry or perfume—and a sales tax.

Chance For Big Revenue
While a retail tax would be applied on the goods when bought by the consumer, a manufacturers' tax would be collected on finished products as they come out of the factory. Critics contend the latter would be swelled by the time it reached the consumer, with mark-ups all along the line, but supporters deny this.

Treasury and congressional staff specialists estimate a retail tax would raise about $1,140,000,000 annually for each 1 per cent of tax imposed. At the manufacturers' level, where prices start off lower, that tax would produce an estimated 753 million dollars for each 1 per cent.

The principal distinction between an excise tax and a sales tax is the point of collection.

Two key members of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee—Republican Chairman Daniel A. Reed (NY) and senior Democrat Jere Cooper (Tenn.)—have declared opposition to any additional taxes, barring a new national emergency.

Fights To Last Ditch
Rep. Eberhart (D-Pa.), a committee member, contended a 5 per cent manufacturers' tax would mean an increase of up to 1 per cent.

Likes His Joke
HOUSTON (AP)—Charles R. Bentley, 33, is an El Campo, Tex., man who apparently likes a joke.

He pleaded guilty Wednesday to second-offense drunk driving—specifically to chasing a Houston woman around her yard in his automobile Aug. 6, 1951.

Then he paid off a $350 fine, plus $22 in court costs—with 7,440 nickels.

Warren Sure Of Approval As Chief Justice

WASHINGTON (AP)—Substantial Senate approval was forecast today for President Eisenhower's appointment of Gov. Earl Warren as chief justice of the United States.

When the court opens its fall term here Monday, the big, smiling California Republican will don the chief justice's robes.

Barring an unforeseen special session of Congress, the Senate will not act at least until January, when the regular session begins.

Praised By Stevenson
Democrats joined with Republicans in praising the selection. Adlai E. Stevenson, The Democrats' unsuccessful presidential nominee in 1952, said it was "an excellent appointment."

Sen. Kilgore (D-W.Va.), a member of the judiciary subcommittee, said he regards the California governor as "a fine man, very capable and very broadminded."

Associate Justice Harold Burton, the only Republican now in the court, said Warren "will make an admirable chief justice."

Eisenhower told a White House news conference Wednesday:

"I certainly wanted a man whose reputation for integrity, honesty, middle-of-the-road philosophy, experience in government, experience in the law, were all such as to convince the United States that here was a man who had no ends to serve except the United States . . .

To my mind he is a man who will make a great chief justice, and so I selected him."

Resigns As Governor
In Sacramento, Calif., the 62-year-old nominee announced he was accepting the appointment, would resign as governor as of midnight Sunday and be on hand here Monday to take the oath of office.

Although Eisenhower tabbed him a middle-of-the-roader, Warren generally is regarded as a "progressive" Republican whose proposals often went far beyond the bounds of national party platforms.

For instance, he was criticized by some Republicans for attempts to set up in California a compulsory health insurance system.

Court observers doubted that Warren's appointment would change the balance on that body now considered largely conservative.

No Kidnap Clues At Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Renewed activity at the home of the wealthy parents of 6-year-old Bobby Greenleaf gave rise today to the possibility of a ransom move by his kidnappers.

Several cars were seen to come and leave the home on Kansas City's fashionable South Side.

Police insisted no new clues had been uncovered. A spokesman for the family said nothing had happened which might lead to the boy, abducted three days ago from a private Catholic school by a woman posing as the child's aunt.

The multimillionaire father, Robert C. Greenleaf, 71-year-old automobile dealer, has announced he is ready to go to any length to get his son back. He has arranged to get currency at any hour to meet ransom demands.

Mrs. Greenleaf, in her mid-40's, was confined to her room under a physician's care. She collapsed Monday after the abduction.

City Buys 37 Acres
JACKSON (AP)—The City Commission voted Wednesday to purchase from the state 37 acres of land used for agricultural purposes near the old Michigan State Prison. The price was $35,000. Twenty-two acres will be resold for a Catholic high school and athletic field and the remaining 15 will be made into a recreation area.

Stevenson Reports To President Today On World Conditions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, dropping politics temporarily but denying Republican assertions that he talks appeasement, reports to President Eisenhower today on world conditions as he found them on a 4½-month tour.

The 1952 Democratic presidential nominee said he was ready to answer any questions he could about his conversations with most of the free world's top diplomats.

Eisenhower, who invited Stevenson to the White House, arranged to talk with him privately for half an hour and then hold a stag luncheon in his honor. Sixteen government officials likely to be interested in Stevenson's report were invited—among them Secretary of State Dulles, Secretary of Defense Wilson, Director Allen Dulles of the Central Intelligence Agency and Foreign Operations Administrator Harold Stassen.

Stevenson flew in from Chicago Wednesday voicing confidence about the future of the Democratic party. He said it is "alive and kicking as never before."

At a news conference, he denied accusations by some Republicans that he was guilty of advocating appeasement in his Sept. 15 Chicago speech. He urged then that the United States be ready to confer with Soviet Russia on disarmament and other problems.

"I think anybody who reads my speech thoroughly would not detect any implications of appeasement," he said.

Iron Workers Avoid Bloodshed In Joppla Strike

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP)—A rival ironworkers union local, fearful of bloodshed, steered clear today of picket lines set up by a rebellious brother local at the strikebound Joppla, Ill., steam electric power plant.

Ray Armstrong, organizer for Local 758 of Cairo, Ill., said his men would not attempt to pass pickets of Local 595 of Paducah because "that would mean bloodshed." He added: "We'll let the law take care of that. If one life is lost, that would be too many."

The AFL Ironworkers' International created Local 758 to take jurisdiction of Joppla after Local 595 defied an order to end the strike, reportedly the 39th since construction of the atomic energy-related project began in 1951.

Racketeering Charged
The Ironworkers' International, obviously attempting to woo members from Local 595 to Local 758, has charged that "racketeering" by Local 595 representatives is the real issue in the latest strike, now 16 days old.

The international asserted "the real issue is whether the ironworkers' (Local 595) stewards and foremen will be permitted to operate illegal crap games, horse trade books, whisky rackets and other concessions on this job."

William Sanders, Local 595 business agent, swiftly replied, "Everybody knows those things are not going on."

Only last Sunday, a bomb, apparently hurled from a moving automobile, damaged Sanders' home. No one was injured.

Sanders asserted, "I don't scare easily. I'm going to fight this thing to the bitter end."

Nude Killer Hunted By 400 At Dallas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A posse of 400 angry Dallas residents, incensed by a series of attacks on white women by a nude Negro prowler, helped harried police today in a search for the killer of a young mother.

The rape-slaying Wednesday night of Mrs. H. C. Parker, 29, attractive blonde dime store clerk, climaxed a series of beatings and rapes on white women by a prowler who has terrified Dallas for months.

Police said Mrs. Parker was literally "cut to pieces." Her throat was slashed deeply.

Although the reinforced police patrols and the angry citizens searched through the night in vain for the killer, police felt the extra patrols in the crowded business-

Eisenhower May Reveal Story Of Eniwetok Blast

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans—and Russians—may get from President Eisenhower the first official account of what happened when the United States shattered a Pacific island with a hydrogen explosion.

That possibility is suggested by Eisenhower's statement Wednesday that he is sorting out in his mind what he should say in a proposed frank public discussion of world tension and growing destructiveness of armament.

To present as part of that broad discussion a picture of the disaster that would come to all nations in an H-bomb war, the President may feel impelled to tell what the newest and most dreadful weapon in the arsenal can do—if used by either the United States or Russia.

Personal letters written by men who witnessed an unprecedented explosion at Eniwetok last fall told of a whole island of the Pacific atoll disappearing in the blast.

Costly Walkout Begun By 60,000 Wharf Workers

NEW YORK (AP)—A multi-million dollar longshoremen's strike today paralyzed East Coast ports, and within hours President Eisenhower invoked Taft-Hartley law cooling off provisions in an effort to halt it.

Mechanics of invoking the law made it unlikely it could take effect before next week.

Railroad officials, in a move to prevent goods from piling up here, ordered an embargo on railroad freight destined for the New York waterfront for shipment.

Eisenhower appointed a three member board of inquiry to report back to him by midnight of Monday, Oct. 5, after which he could seek a court order to apply the law's emergency provisions.

"The ports are tied up completely from Portland, Maine to Hampton Roads, Va.," said a strike leader.

"Nothing is loading."

Two huge liners managed to dock in New York despite the work stoppage that began at midnight.

Tugboats Idle
The 51,840-ton French liner Liberte, 936 feet long, berthed with the guidance of one of her motor lifeboats. The 683-foot American liner Constitution, a 29,500 tonner, was aided by two motor launches in docking.

Tugboat crews as well as longshoremen were idle.

Many ships fled port before the strike deadline.

Sixty-eight vessels, among them the liners United States and Queen Elizabeth, churned out of New York harbor Wednesday like a wartime convoy. About 25 or 30 ships ordinarily sail from here in one day.

No Violence Yet
Pickets patrolled outside major piers at the 8 a.m. "shape-up," or going to work hour, but some disbanded later when it became apparent the longshoremen did not intend to work.

At the usually bustling Hudson River piers, only small picketing teams gave outward evidence that the strike was on.

There were no reports of violence despite inter-union rivalry for control of the waterfront.

The strike over a wage contract was called by the International Longshoremen's Assn., recently ousted by the American Federation of Labor for failure to rid itself of racketeering elements. Ef-

Egypt's Former Premier To Hang

CAIRO (AP)—Egypt's special revolutionary court today sentenced former Premier Ibrahim Abdel Hadi and an Egyptian formerly employed by the British to hang on charges of treason and plotting with an unidentified foreign power to restore ex-King Farouk to the throne.

Hadi, 57-year-old Saadist party leader, was sentenced after a three-day trial. The hearing for the second defendant, Ahmad Mohamed Awad, lasted two hours and was held in secret after the sentencing of Hadi.

Awad, an electrician, formerly was employed by the British garrison which Egypt wants to expel from the Suez Canal zone.

They were the first of some 24 persons scheduled to be arraigned by the special tribunal on similar charges.

HOLLAND (AP)—A driverless auto struck and seriously injured a woman golfer hunting for a lost ball near the second green of the American Legion golf course here Wednesday.

Mrs. Josephine Antas, 30, was treated at Holland Hospital for leg and arm fractures, then removed to St. Mary's Hospital, Grand Rapids, where her condition was reported fair today.

Officers said the car, parked near the club house, rolled down a steep grade to strike Mrs. Antas who was unaware of warnings shouted by other players.

Parcel, Phone Rates Increased

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rates went up today for making long distance telephone calls across state lines and for mailing packages by parcel post. The increases will cost Americans an estimated 218 million dollars a year.

An average 8 per cent advance in interstate long distance phone tolls became effective with the sanction late Wednesday of the Federal Communications Commission. The hikes, effective throughout the Bell system, will add about 65 million dollars a year to charges for the service.

Parcel post rates went up an average of 35 per cent, or an estimated 153 millions annually. The advance was authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission last June.

Teachers Confronted With Many Problems

Two speakers addressing the teachers' conference in a packed junior high school auditorium this morning stressed the larger aims toward which teachers should work as they go about their daily duties.

They were A. J. Phillips, executive secretary of the Michigan Education Association, Lansing; and Karl H. Berns, assistant secretary for business, National Education Association, Washington, D. C.

Phillips, the first speaker, whose topic was "Let's Do It This Year," listed 13 different projects and problems facing teachers, and said there was a big job ahead if all 13 were to be concluded satisfactorily.

The 13 projects and problems he listed were:

The Michigan Education Association's building campaign. Teachers in the state have pledged themselves to raise $27,000.00 this year, he said.

Increased Enrollments
The Beecher School library project, to raise $35,000.00 to rebuild a school wrecked by a tornado.

The problem of increased enrollments. He said an increase in enrollment of 70,000 is expected this year. Up to five years ago enrollment increased only by 10,000 yearly, he said. Five years ago it went up to 22,000. Now, he said, Michigan public schools' enrollment has grown by 140,000 in the past two years. Some schools have gone on half-day sessions, even elementary schools where the foundations of education are laid, Phillips declared. "Those youngsters are being cheated," he said. Another solution has been to overload teachers with too many students, and this also cheats the youngsters, the educator said.

The teacher shortage. There should be a teacher for every 30 youngsters, Phillips said. In the state are needed 2,000-2,500 more teachers than the school system has been granted. This problem can be solved in three ways, Phillips said: 1) by encouraging outstanding high school graduates to enter the profession; 2) by holding more teachers in the teaching profession, for, he declared, the profession is now losing 75 percent of certified teachers within five years of certification date; and 3) by encouraging teachers who have left the profession, to return to it.

Fifth problem was adequate facilities. "Where're we going to get the classrooms," Phillips asked. School building throughout Michigan is 450 million dollars behind, he asserted. He spoke of the attempt to get the 15 mill tax limitation modified.

Sixth was finances. "Where're we going to get the money?" This year state aid will probably total 187 million dollars, he said. He told the teachers their salaries were still not high enough and said the association will do what it can to make salaries higher.

Next he listed the attainment of a reciprocity between the Detroit school system and the rest of the state.

Room For Improvement
He said there was a need for improved tax assessments, and to attain state equalized valuation as the basis for taxation.

Constitutional amendment may

become a problem, Phillips declared. The schools may be faced with an amendment to wipe out the sales tax diversion altogether, or to substitute inadequate revenue sources for it. Teachers may have to go to the voters to protect sales tax diversion or to attain something better in place of it, he stated.

There is a need for larger units of school administration, Phillips said. Every child is entitled to live in a high school district as well as in an elementary school district, he said.

The 11th problem he named as the curriculum. People complain that products of Michigan schools can't spell well enough and are otherwise deficient, he said. While not granting the entire justice of the criticism, he said there was room for improvement and teachers should exert themselves to produce boys and girls who can read well, write legibly, spell correctly, write down ideas coherently, add simple arithmetical sums, and above all be able to speak coherently and clearly. "I think we have neglected speech too much," he asserted.

As a 12th problem the educator listed improving the teaching profession itself.

Final problem named by the executive secretary of the Michigan Education Assn. was communications. A lot of things teachers are doing are not known about, he said. That is why a mid-monthly edition of the Michigan Education Assn. Journal, packed with information in capsule form, is now being issued, he said—to help teachers inform others.

"Let's go out, put our shoulder to the wheel, and we can accomplish all these things," Phillips concluded.

Profession United
Second speaker of the morning was the assistant secretary for business of the National Education Assn. in Washington, D. C., Karl H. Berns, speaking on "This Is The Hour."

Berns paid tribute to local education associations. "You are the explorers of some of the hidden talent that it is necessary for every profession to harness," he complimented the associations.

Describing the work and achievements of the National Education Assn., he said it is the largest professional association in the world and its membership last year passed the half million mark.

"Our efforts are to unite a profession," he declared. Purpose of this is so the voice of teachers can enter the halls of Congress and even the tribunals of the world, and be stronger than the voice of the lone teacher crying aloud in

Kipling Man Denies Drunk Driving Charge

Lawrence Smith of Kipling was arraigned before Justice of Peace A. T. Sohlberg of Gladstone today on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants. Smith entered a plea of not guilty and requested a jury trial, which was set for Tuesday, Oct. 6.

Smith was arrested by the Michigan State Police Wednesday afternoon on US 2-41 in the village of Kipling. He spent the night in the county jail.

Average summer temperature in the Escanaba area in the northern part of Mexico's Lower California is 68; the average winter temperature 60.

the wilderness.

"We seek to improve our skills," he further declared. Berns said the National Education Assn. is the largest publisher of educational material in the world. The National Journal is produced on a press which fills a room almost twice the size of the junior high auditorium, and uses eight carloads of paper per issue and a ton and a half of printers' ink, he said. The journal goes to every postal zone in the United States, he said.

Saying the voice of American teachers had been slighted by the League of Nations, he asserted this was not so with the United Nations. "Your National Education Assn. had a part in writing the United Nations charter," he told the group.

Berns spoke of efforts going forward to build a professional home for the national association in Washington, D. C.

Diocesan Teachers' Institute Convenes

The Marquette Diocesan Teachers Institute opened today with a general session at the William Bonifas Auditorium at 10 a. m. Mayor Robert E. LeMire began the session with a welcome address extended in behalf of the city to the Catholic educators attending the conference.

A brief opening speech and welcome was presented by Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, D.D., Bishop of Marquette.

"It is a great joy and privilege to invoke God's blessing upon this institute, and I pray that the session will bring light and inspiration to all teachers attending," Bishop Noa began.

The purpose of the teacher is to mold the mind, will and heart of the child for a proper relationship to God, neighbor, self and surroundings, he continued. The basic theme of the parochial teacher's job is expressed in the catechism; to teach the children to know God, to love God and to serve God.

Con Sullivan Speaks
Bishop Noa also spoke on the sense of responsibility a teacher must have, the importance of citizenship in the schools and the social mission of the parochial schools.

Con Sullivan, superintendent of public schools, L'Anse, an outstanding educator and administrator, gave the keynote address at the session.

He started his speech by stating that a teacher must be a father, mother, policeman, doctor, judge and jury during her classroom hours. She must be prepared for more emergencies than there are in a hospital and must mend more broken hearts from puppy love on the playground than are mended in the movies. She must be able to settle spats, put on snowsuits, be an interior decorator and an amateur carpenter and last but not least, teach school.

"Teaching offers many satisfactions and rewards," he said. "A child is born with curiosity which usually is suppressed in the home, and the teacher must awaken this curiosity. A child without curiosity would be a very dull person."

Plenty of Bosses

No other occupation has as many bosses as the teaching profession, he said. They must heed the school board, supervisors, P.T.A., community and the children. While teaching, a teacher is getting an education from his or her schoolroom of an assorted collection of youngsters.

Schools must return to teaching the fundamentals, Mr. Sullivan continued. By not requiring students to study the classics, educators have taken a step backwards in education. Education will not have any meaning unless it returns to the its fundamental concepts.

A fourth R should be added to reading, writing and arithmetic—religion.

Teachers in the schools can objectively teach religion without any mention of a certain religious creed. Mr. Sullivan stated that last week a top educator said that God must be brought back into the public schools.

He also stressed the importance of establishing citizenship in the schools across the country. Teaching citizenship to the children is the job of all who are teachers. He ended by saying that the mental health of a child cannot be overlooked by the teachers. They must have a general knowledge of the child's background.

St. Joseph's High School glee club presented several numbers under the direction of Sister Cella, music director. Fr. O'Neil D'Amour made the introductions.

Gulliver Girl Killed As Car Hits Abutment

Loris Gonder, 19, of Gulliver, was killed this morning about 3:50 when a car in which she was a passenger hit a concrete abutment of a Soo Line overpass on US-241 several miles east of Rapid River, Michigan State Police said.

Two other persons were injured, but extent of their injuries was unknown at noon today, their doctor said. They are:

Wayne Gonder of Gulliver, 20, brother of Loris and also a passenger, who is in St. Francis Hospital, seriously injured. He has a concussion, his doctor said.

William Rice of Gulliver, 20-year-old airman home on furlough who was driving the car. He is also in St. Francis Hospital, in fairly good condition, his doctor said.

Rice told Michigan State Police he was blinded by lights from an oncoming vehicle.

The 1951 automobile which Rice was driving is a total wreck, state police reported.

The first wreck was the cause of two more accidents which followed.

Mrs. Eldon A. King of Birmingham, Mich., braked her car and missed the wrecked car, but hit the concrete abutment, Bruce King, a passenger, was treated at St. Francis Hospital and released this morning. Three small bones were broken in his spine, his doctor said.

About 6:15 when wreckage was being cleared away, L. Ray Gazlay of 1322 Michigan Ave., Gladstone, was driving around one of the wreckers. Shirley Anne Maki of St. Clair Shores, who was driving behind Gazlay, slowed her car down, but she rammed into the back of Gazlay's car.

Damage to Gazlay's car was slight, but to the front of her car it was more serious. Both drivers were able to drive their cars away, however.

CONDUCT ACCOUNTING SESSION — School administrators of the Upper Peninsula yesterday afternoon attended a child accounting conference in connection with new laws covering accounting of school population and enrollment to receive state aid. Conducting the conference

Schoolmen Review New Child Accounting Law

A critical examination of moral shortcomings that resulted in school enrollment "padding" to obtain state aid to which one school district was not entitled, plus study of new child accounting forms issued under recent law occupied school administrators of the Upper Peninsula in special meeting yesterday afternoon at City Hall in Escanaba.

The meeting was held to be of special significance and was scheduled prior to the opening of the Michigan Education Association district conference opening today.

George Schutt, consultant in transportation, reorganization and rural agriculture for the Michigan Department of Public Instruction, said in connection with the padding of school enrollment figures:

Control By Law
"It is impossible to improve morals through legislation. The law only helps catch those who try to cheat. It simplifies the business of catching him."

Under the new child accounting system the "padding" that occurred at Sandusky could not have happened, Schutt declared, "unless the county superintendent also goes to sleep." Use of the new accounting forms would also have prevented the "situation" in Baraga, he added.

It is surprising, said Schutt, considering the fact that the Sandusky exposure of "padding" came when the legislature was in session that the new child accounting law "is as mild as it is."

Accuracy Urged
Hagle Quarnstrom, Delta County superintendent of schools, said the purpose of yesterday's meeting "is to acquaint our people with the new law so that we will do our child accounting properly under the law as it is drawn."

The school administrators studied the several reporting forms required to be filled out and informed themselves of the rules and regulations to be followed under the new system.

During the discussion Schutt cited the difference between "honest mistakes" in reporting and deliberate falsification. The need for accuracy is imperative, he pointed out, because the law allows only a 2 per cent margin of error in reports from each local school district.

Eye Loopholes
The problem in some Lower Michigan districts is the number of migrant workers whose children do not appear on the spring census figures, Schutt said. Under the new system in which enrollment reports are made after school opens the district is assured of receiving state aid.

School population has generally declined in the Upper Peninsula and some sections of the Lower Peninsula, while in other Lower Michigan districts the population has increased.

Schutt said that educators and legislators are considering the necessity of establishing the length of the school days as well as the school year to meet certain problems created by over-crowding. An example is one district, unnamed by Schutt, in which one teacher has 145 children in her kindergarten in three sessions, which Schutt described as "cheating on state aid."

State Pays Most
Schutt said that he is not arguing whether the new current membership reporting system is good or bad. It is law and is the result of "the revolting thing that happened at Sandusky" and it is now the responsibility of all school districts to conform to the new law.

The importance of careful and honest accounting was cited by Schutt with the statement that 55 to 90 per cent of school costs in local districts in Michigan are paid under the state aid program. Fred Myners, principal of the

Assist Polio Cases With Wedding Gifts

Mrs. Signe Bonifas of Isabella and Gust Soderberg of Danforth, whose marriage will take place Saturday afternoon, Oct. 3, are making an unusual request in the matter of wedding gifts.

Because both of them have well established homes of their own, they are asking that money be given by anyone who may wish to express their esteem. This money will be used to assist certain families in which some of the members have been stricken by polio.

The Bonifas-Soderberg wedding will be solemnized in Manistique on Saturday afternoon with the Rev. G. A. Herbert, pastor of Zion Lutheran Church officiating. The ceremony will be semi-private in nature with only relatives and friends in attendance.

After the wedding there will be a reception from 3 to 5 at the Isabella community hall to which all friends of the couple are invited.

Garden Village School at Kingsford, was chairman of yesterday's session. About 50 school administrators attended.

Ore Shipments Far Above '52

Ore shipments at Escanaba so far this season are more than 1,000,000 tons above last year for the same period, indicating a banner year locally in the movement of ore, it was reported today by L. A. McMillan, Chicago & North Western Railway dock agent.

For this season to Oct. 1 there was a total of 4,837,214 tons of ore shipped from the North Western's two docks, compared to 3,659,608 tons for the same period last year.

A total of 544 boats were loaded out of Escanaba for the season to date, with 82 of the total in September.

The ore shipping season will continue here until late November as the rush to stockpile ore at Lower Lakes smelters tapers off in one of the biggest ore movements for county school superintendents, high school and grade school principals.

The Michigan Education Association-National Education Association luncheon will be held at noon Friday in the marine room at the House of Ludington with Mrs. Catherine Locke, principal of the Junior High School in Escanaba, chairman.

The luncheon speaker will be Karl H. Berns, Washington, D. C., assistant secretary for business, N. E. A., who will speak on the subject "Building a United Profession."

Glare Of World Publicity May Stop Korean Build-Up

REPORTS are mounting that the Communists in North Korea are building up their air force in violation of the truce terms. Knowing the Reds as we do, we cannot feel great surprise.

The accounts seem authentic enough. The young North Korean Red pilot who recently flew his MIG jet fighter to a UN airport said the build-up is going on steadily. Our own aircraft, flying at high altitudes and checking by radar, confirm the story.

The Red pilot said he believed the illegal movement of aircraft to new bases close behind the truce line was a preparation for renewal of hostilities. It is unlikely a pilot of modest rank would be privy to secrets of the Communist high command. But he may be making a highly informed guess, and we must act on the assumption that he may be right.

We all remember that the Communists used the truce device again and again against Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese, cloaking a military build-up which enabled them to strike with decisive impact. They could be planning the same sort of strategy this time.

Certainly they have stalled over the holding of a Korean political conference in a manner suggesting they don't much care if it ever comes off.

On the other hand, the present activity may simply represent the Communists' exaggerated notions of what is necessary to a proper defense of North Korea against surprise assault by the UN, or perhaps Syngman Rhee's South Korean armies. To us this idea may seem fantastic, but the Reds and especially the Chinese, are superstitious to the presence of large armies near their borders.

In the end, we can merely speculate over Red intentions, and if they are bad, speculation will give us no protection. Red fighters poised close to the truce line are a grave danger, a peril we did not have to endure during the war when our bombs smashed all North Korean fields and kept the Communist air force pinned to Manchurian bases.

As soon as the evidence has been accumulated for presentation, we should submit it in protest to the neutral armistice commission. If necessary, our protests should carry all the way to the UN council tables in New York. The spotlight glare of world publicity may stop what no ordinary complaints would likely interrupt.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower hit the ceiling the other day when Foreign Operations Administrator Stassen told him that of the $100,000,000 worth of wheat the United States sent to Pakistan, not a bushel had reached Pakistan refugees—as the United States had officially specified.

Furthermore, 10 per cent of the wheat had been stolen, and 25 per cent had been used by Pakistan officials for speculation. Stassen had heard this report from a representative of CARE, following which he cabled the American ambassador in Karachi, who confirmed it.

The wheat had been dumped in Pakistan by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Foreign Operations Administration without making any provision for distribution, and with only the assurance of Pakistan officials that it would reach the needy—especially the refugees. The latter are Mohammedans who fled from non-Mohammedan India after British India was chopped up into Mohammedan and non-Mohammedan nations.

Stassen asked Paul French, efficient director of CARE, to see if he could work out a plan with the Pakistan embassy for more efficient distribution of the wheat, and it looks as if some of the wheat program might now be saved. The Pakistan government flatly opposes any supervision by U. S. officials in distributing wheat but has no objection to supervision by private Americans such as agents for CARE. A plan somewhat like this was worked out in Yugoslavia when the United States sent wheat to that country.

Note—U. S. wheat has frequently been dumped in foreign countries, steamer after steamer, without the American people getting credit for their generosity. It was the manner in which the Soviet unloaded only one cargo of wheat in Marseilles with parades and acclaim while American ships were unloading unnoticed beside it that inspired this writer in 1947 to suggest a friendship train of food which would be genuinely people to people.

IKE'S PRESS RELATIONS

President Eisenhower, unlike Harry Truman, has a keen sense of what is or what is not good press relations for his cabinet. His press relations having been of the best during his entire army and political careers, he takes time to keep a weather eye on what makes a good press for his official family.

At one cabinet meeting he remarked "I don't want any of you appearing on this 'Meet the Press' program."

"But Mr. President," spoke up Secretary of the Interior Doug McKay, "it just so happens that I've recently agreed to appear on 'Meet the Press' and it may be a little awkward if I back out at the last minute."

"All right," replied Ike, "go ahead. But look out for that fellow Spivak."

Not Lawrence Spivak is the chief cross-examiner on "Meet the Press."

NO MORE BUDGET CUTTING

You can write it down as certain that military budget-cutting by the Eisenhower administration is out the window at least for the next couple of years. Along with it will probably go the new hard-money policy.

Signs of scrapping the hard-money policy were evident even last week when the Federal Reserve Board poured $10,000,000 of government money into the market to support the price of government bonds; and when interest rates on treasury certificates were slightly decreased. It has been the upping of interest on U. S. government bonds by the Treasury which has helped tighten money all over the country.

Reason behind the end of budget-cutting is worry over the hydrogen bomb and fear that the Republicans will be blamed for cutting too deeply—especially the Air Force.

Reason behind the tapering off of the hard-money policy is warnings from White House economic advisers that business is in for a downward skid if the policy continues.

This does not mean that the budget is going to be deliberately thrown out of balance. Heroic efforts will be made to get it in balance. But at the present moment, the means of doing so are neither decided nor apparent. The chances are, however, that it will mean continued high taxes.

At any rate, the decision to quit cutting has been in the works both in Denver and in Washington for about a month.

The original worry about too much cutting began with Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson. Last August he received a letter from Budget Director Joe Dodge informing him that his budget for next year was to be chopped to $30,000,000,000. This meant a further cut of $4,500,000,000 on top of the drastic cuts already accomplished. So even a hardened old economist like Wilson balked.

There are numerous ways of addressing a golf ball, but you won't find all of them in the rule books.

A waiter in Chicago was arrested for speeding. Doesn't sound possible!

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—State aid to Delta County is the second highest in Upper Michigan, the heaviest being Houghton county. In the past year Delta county received a total of $1,366,387 in various forms of state aid. Welfare service grants alone amounted to $374,331 here.

Gladstone—Rabbit hunters have been annoyed to learn that there is a wide prevalence of tularemia among the bunnies killed in this area.

Manistique—Schoolcraft county leads all other counties in the Upper Peninsula in the sale of War Bonds.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Construction of the state conservation departments storage building near the state fair grounds is virtually completed according to announcement by Robert Furlong, district supervisor.

Escanaba—Robert LeMire, son of Mrs. W. A. LeMire, has been made a member of the University of Notre Dame band. He plays the drum.

Don't Expect Miracles Very Soon

Dying Craft Worries Weavers; Hands That Tie Yarn Get Old

By WARD CANNEL

PATERSON, N. J.—(NEA)—The thunder was gigantic and unbearable. It seemed to hit you in your chest and your breath came in the short, heavy tempo of the banging, rolling, crashing noise.

Besides, it was very hot and very damp. You could see the fine spray of moisture sneezed into the air by rows of humidifiers hanging down from the ceiling.

A graying man who held a great, white handkerchief in his huge hands stood out in the middle of the noise and heat and humidity.

"I hate to think about this," he shouted through the thunder. "Most of us are getting too old to keep going. I worry about the silence we'll leave behind."

This was "The Weavers"—a Paterson mail-order textile mill getting ready for the Christmas rush. Their product, as old as the holiday itself, is an intricately woven, hand-worked baby shawl.

Each year thousands of these fancy infants' shawls go into gift boxes in the mill to be sent out for use as receiving blankets, christening robes, carriage covers and crib blankets.

Running like endless threads through the noise was miles of wool fibre. First as pastel-colored skeins travelling quickly on winding frames only to be rewound on fat, soft cones. And then onto tremendous warps, around pen-shaped quilts and finally onto the looms where wool runs through warp and thin strands and hard steel turn out baby-soft shawls.

And everywhere there were hands at work on the wool. Swarthy hands, white hands, thin, calloused, short-fingered, tapered hands. Tying ends, measuring tension, feeling texture, knotting fringes, finding imperfections.

"But our hands are old," one of the weavers said. "Most of us are in our sixties now. We've been working at this kind of weaving all our lives. And there doesn't seem to be anyone to take our place."

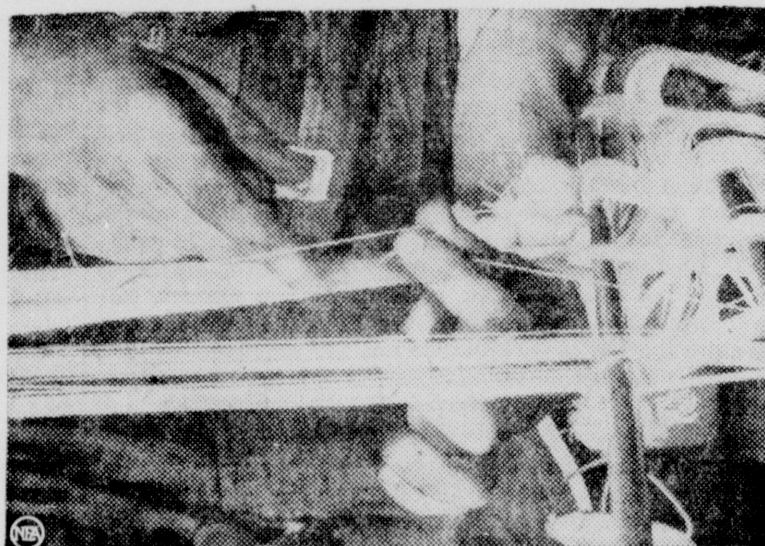

He explained that young people who become weavers don't want to spend the necessary years to learn the skill of intricate work. They would rather work on plain fabrics at machines that ask no experience.

The fancy weaving skills were developed in Europe. And even at the Paterson mill the payroll reads like a continental glossary. There is a Vartanesian from Armenia; a Salleroli from Italy; a Romanowski from Poland; a Hanenberg from Holland. All old men whose accents differ but whose skill is the same.

"It's all right," one of them said. "The world has to move. But I hate to see our craft die with us."

Outside, in a long, quiet room, gray-haired women sat at tables hand-finishing the baby shawls. Many of them are the wives of the weavers. All of them have children and grandchildren who have said many, many times: "You are too old to work. Stay at home."

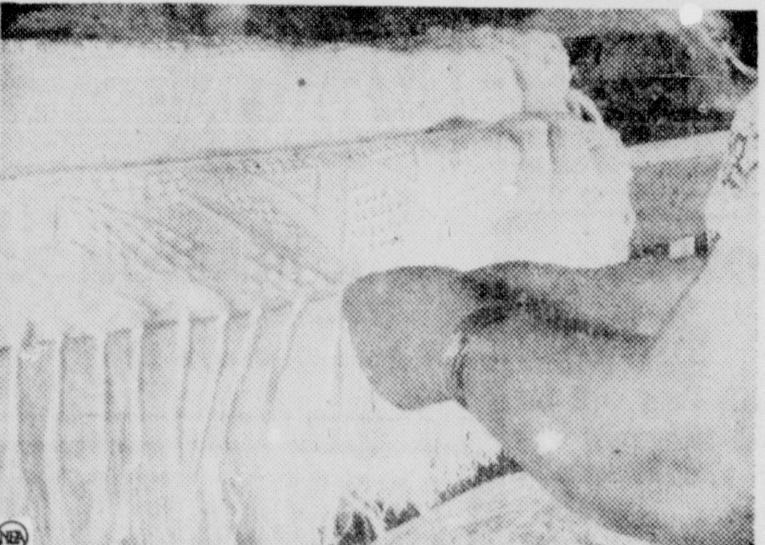

But stacked near them, in the mail room, are crates and boxes ready to hold the long-fringed, warm-colored, carefully woven woolen shawls that will go out to homes across the nation.

OLD WEAVER'S HANDS tie the ends of the yarn with care . . .

. . . and measure the tension of wool with old-world skill . . .

. . . to make the shawls these practised fingers are knotting.

And for these women, this is more than a job. They, like their men at the looms, will tell you that the sweet-smelling yarn to be lived until you die.

So They Say

No business of such magnitude as the government can be overhauled and its former mistakes corrected in eight months. However, the new management has made a good start.—Oveta Culp Hobby, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

I don't think we can abandon anything that promises trade and commerce.—Sen. Walter F. George (D., Ga.) argues for retention of Reciprocal Trade Law.

They (presently manufactured atomic weapons) can wipe life off the surface of this planet.—Secretary of State Dulles.

It is more necessary today than it has been for some years that farmers accumulate sufficient financial reserves.—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson.

The Reds were very much afraid of the Sabres (jet fighters) because of the American planes' superior maneuverability and gun-sights.—Gen. Noh Keun Suk, North Korea's first who flew a MIG to freedom.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

FAMILY PORTRAIT—According to reports from authoritative sources the camera does not tell a lie. In other words, you look just as you appear in your portrait.

A friend of mine, recently returned from a two-hour stint to the studio with the wife and kiddies to have a family portrait made, avers that the camera not only prevaricates—it exaggerates the lie.

"It took two hours of pulling, hauling, yelling, tears and pleading, but we got our picture took," he reported. "And you should see the one we selected—we all look pleasantly fat and satisfied."

He produced a proof to prove it. Sure enough, there they sat, stood and knelt in formal informality. And they all had smug expressions like they had received news of the death of Uncle Amos who had willed them all his earthly millions.

FROZEN FACES—Only a good photographer can unfreeze the frozen-faced subject whose image he wants to place upon paper for all to see.

Some people, principally those of more than ordinary sensitivity, react to a camera as a government worker does to the McCarthy committee—they refuse to give.

Their faces become rigid and impassive masks, arms stuck out awkwardly, legs cross in bewildered attitudes. The candid camera catches all their grotesquery. No wonder they are self-conscious about being photo subjects.

THE PHOTOGENIC—The fortunate few are photogenic and appear well even in a snapshot taken in the sun on a hot day at a picnic. They have features put together in a tidy manner and their ears are companionably close to their head.

Such people, when faced by a photographer, fall into easy and natural poses. They do not have to grin to show a pleasant countenance.

Some of the photogenic souls grow into camera muggers, however, and cause photographers a considerable amount of trouble. The muggers will be detected by their ability to spot a camera a distance of 60 feet across a crowded room and somehow inject themselves into every picture taken.

The photogenics are not vain. They just like to have their pictures taken. Most of them never keep a snapshot album—they let their friends do that.

GROWING PAINS—Children react variously to cameras, much as adults. Some youngsters, just out of infancy, set up a tremendous howl in self defense; others gurgle and coo at the opportunity to be photographed.

Little boys pass through an interesting phase in connection with having their pictures taken. From age five to ten they invariably stick out their tongue, roll their eyes, thumb their nose or make other extrovert efforts designed to embarrass their parents.

This is a phenomena of behavior that must be observed to be understood, if not appreciated.

THE NEW VIEW—Something new in picture taking has come out of Hollywood, the land of spectacular photography, that is as old as the old-fashioned stereopticon on the parlor table.

Now it is called three dimension as the movie makers had just discovered the visual cue to space perception.

Leonardo da Vinci had noted the fact of stereopsis many centuries ago, but could do nothing about it in his paintings. Then the prism stereoscope was discovered some 100 years ago and popularized in stereoscopes distributed by the Keystone View Company.

Folks of the Gay Nineties sat in their parlors and took a three dimensional tour of the world. The only difference with today's movies was that the picture did not move.

PHOTOGRAPHIC ART—Back of every camera, whether movie or still, is a photographer. The man behind the camera is the most important of all, for he can make or break a subject in photographic art.

Just as the head of the family was amazed at the serene excellence of the family portrait, so many viewers are surprised when photographers catch on their film the very soul of a subject. This is an art not yet fully developed.

But for the time being the camera is largely dedicated to picturing all phases of modern life and in this it does an outstanding job.

The camera has contributed greatly to advancement of knowledge. And in the field of education the use of visual aids is one of the more important developments.

The Doctor Says . . . Boils Are Hazard to Those Who Work With Grease

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

All of the questions in today's column are devoted to the skin.

Q—My husband comes in contact with a great deal of grease and oil in the course of his work and is constantly troubled with boils or what look like boils. Is there any connection?
J. L.

A—It is quite possible that a connection exists because difficulties of this sort with the skin are a common occupational hazard among workers who come in contact with greases, oils, and the like.

Q—Would you please discuss pityriasis rosea, which I have had for four weeks. Is this a deficiency disease?
H. H.

A—This is not a deficiency disease, but is a mild inflammation of the skin, characterized by rose-colored patches, principally on the trunk of the body. It produces few if any other symptoms, usually requires no special treatment, and clears up by itself without complications in a period of several weeks.

Q—I am 72 years young and feel fine, but lately I have been getting brown spots on my face and hands. Are these liver spots?
T. N.

A—There is no such condition as liver spots. The brown spots on your skin are probably merely increased deposits of pigment without any serious significance. Changes of this sort are not uncommon among elderly people.

Q—I am one of those afflicted with itching all over my body after taking a bath, which usually lasts about half an hour. Is there anything you can suggest?
W. J.

A—This is unfortunately a rather common complaint. Some people get a measure of relief by switching from soap to a soap substitute cleansing agent. In many victims of this condition the skin seems to be rather dry, and if this is the case, restricting the number of baths and using oily preparations such as is used for dry skin generally may be of some help. In those in whom simple measures are not helpful the skin specialists often have some additional tricks up their sleeves.

Q—Would you please discuss the skin condition called ichthyosis?
M. S.

A—This curious and fortunately rather rare skin condition is sometimes known as fish scales because the skin takes on an appearance of extreme scalliness. The cause is not clearly understood, but it seems to be related to some kind of inborn quality. Several different kinds of complicated treatment have been reported with more or less good results.

Many Improvements Are Authorized At Hermansville

HERMANSVILLE—Meyer Township (Hermansville) joined Dickinson County in turning back their clocks, Sunday morning at 2 a. m. when this action was authorized by the Meyer Township Board which met in special session Friday evening, September 25 in the Township Rooms of the Community Building.

The Township Board approved a mile of new construction on road 355 enroute to Powers. The Menominee County Road Commission is going to move 20,000 yards of fill at a cost of $4,000 of which Meyer Township will pay $1,000. Next year the road will be blacktopped at a cost to the Township of $1,500 a mile.

Seven new street lights will be added to Hermansville's lighting system and 12 present ones will be increased from 100 to 250 candle-watts under a street lighting improvement program for the village outlined by Walter Dougovito, Iron Mountain manager of the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co.

Two of the new lights will be at the US-2 entrance to the city. The others will be at the corners of St. Mary's Catholic Church, the Elmer Koish residence, the Italian Hall, and the Hans Hansen and William Whitens corners.

Meyer Township has been paying a daily fee of $1.74 per light, plus power consumed, and the new arrangement will mean an increase of about 30 per cent over the amounts paid for the past 20 years. The Power Company will install a photo-electric cell for the automatic control of the lighting system.

Henry Ball of Powers accompanied Dougovito to the meeting and they discussed the lighting system with the board members.

Military Budget Slash Unlikely

WASHINGTON (P)—Secretary of Defense Wilson says he doubts the Russians will start a war right now, but at a news conference he steered cautiously away from any prediction of a big slash soon in military spending.

In a separate discussion, Val Peterson, civil defense administrator, said Russia "has enough atomic bombs to drop one or more on every major American city at the same time"—and that such an attack could cause up to 22 million casualties.

Wilson was bombarded at his conference Tuesday with questions about Soviet ability to make hydrogen bombs in quantity and any related reshaping of U. S. fiscal and defense plans.

Wilson agreed with one newsman that any early reduction to 33 or 34 billions in defense spending, now running between 42 and

He said he thought the budget of his department for the fiscal year beginning July 1 would probably be "something less than 43 billion dollars" and that newsmen were "getting hot" when they questioned him about a 40 billion figure.

School System Needs Change, Taylor Declares

Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction, this morning in the junior high school told the U. P. Teachers' Conference it is time the people of Michigan realize the state's present teaching organization does not meet the needs of the changed social and economic conditions of today.

Taylor declared boys and girls are entitled to something beyond the 12th grade now, just as in the 1800's people came to realize children were entitled to something beyond the eighth grade.

"Continually inform the public of what the problems of education are," he urged the teachers.

"We cannot overlook the fact that the public does not have a good understanding of what we are supposed to teach in our schools," he further asserted.

Reminiscing, he said, "we always have had good teachers," and told the audience that a teacher he had when he was in his first years of high school was in the audience today. He remembered many good teachers he had when he was young, he said.

The control of education in Michigan rests ultimately with the people, Taylor declared. He said part of the state's strength was in its "enlightened public."

Taylor noted in conclusion that the teacher is becoming more and more a part of the community in modern life, and not somebody just off in a sphere by himself. He urged teachers to take part in this trend.

Costly Walkout Ties Up Docks In 12 Eastern Ports

forts of the AFL to bring the discredited ILA members into a new union inspired fears of possible violence.

Groups Hurl Taunts

Police moved in when members of Local 895 which has affiliated with the newly formed AFL-ILA union tried to hand out leaflets urging membership in the new group to ILA pickets circling the Grace Line pier 25 at West 10th Street.

Separated by the police, the two groups contented themselves by taunting each other.

Tension eased somewhat, however, with the appearance of John Dwyer, former insurgent ILA leader and now a leader in the new group.

Asserting that his men "have no intention of crossing the picket line," Dwyer said they would respect the "no contract-no work" tradition.

Last Ships Loaded

Wednesday President Eisenhower said his Labor Department was studying use of the Taft-Hartley injunction to nip the strike of some 60,000 longshoremen and provide an 80-day cooling off period. A White House announcement on the situation was expected today.

Wednesday night on the vast New York waterfront, longshoremen worked at fever pitch to get several dozen ships loaded and out of the world's largest port before the strike deadline of midnight.

Cargo for American armed forces abroad will not be affected. A strike along the North Atlantic Seaboard means an estimated loss of 1 1/2 million dollars daily, and directly and indirectly will affect 800,000 workers holding jobs in the New York area alone.

The walkout involves 12 Eastern Seaboard cities: New York; Portland; Boston; Providence; R. I.; New London, New Haven and Bridgeport, Conn.; Wilmington, Del.; Philadelphia and Chester, Pa.; Baltimore; and Hampton Roads, Va.

Picket Lines Honored

The ILA stood on its demand for a 13-cent an hour wage-welfare boost. The association offered 8 1/2 cents. The current basic longshore wage is $2.27 an hour.

Tugboat operators in New York announced they would respect ILA picket lines.

The AFL, avowedly out to break the old ILA, indicated it would make no attempt to cross picket lines of the independent union.

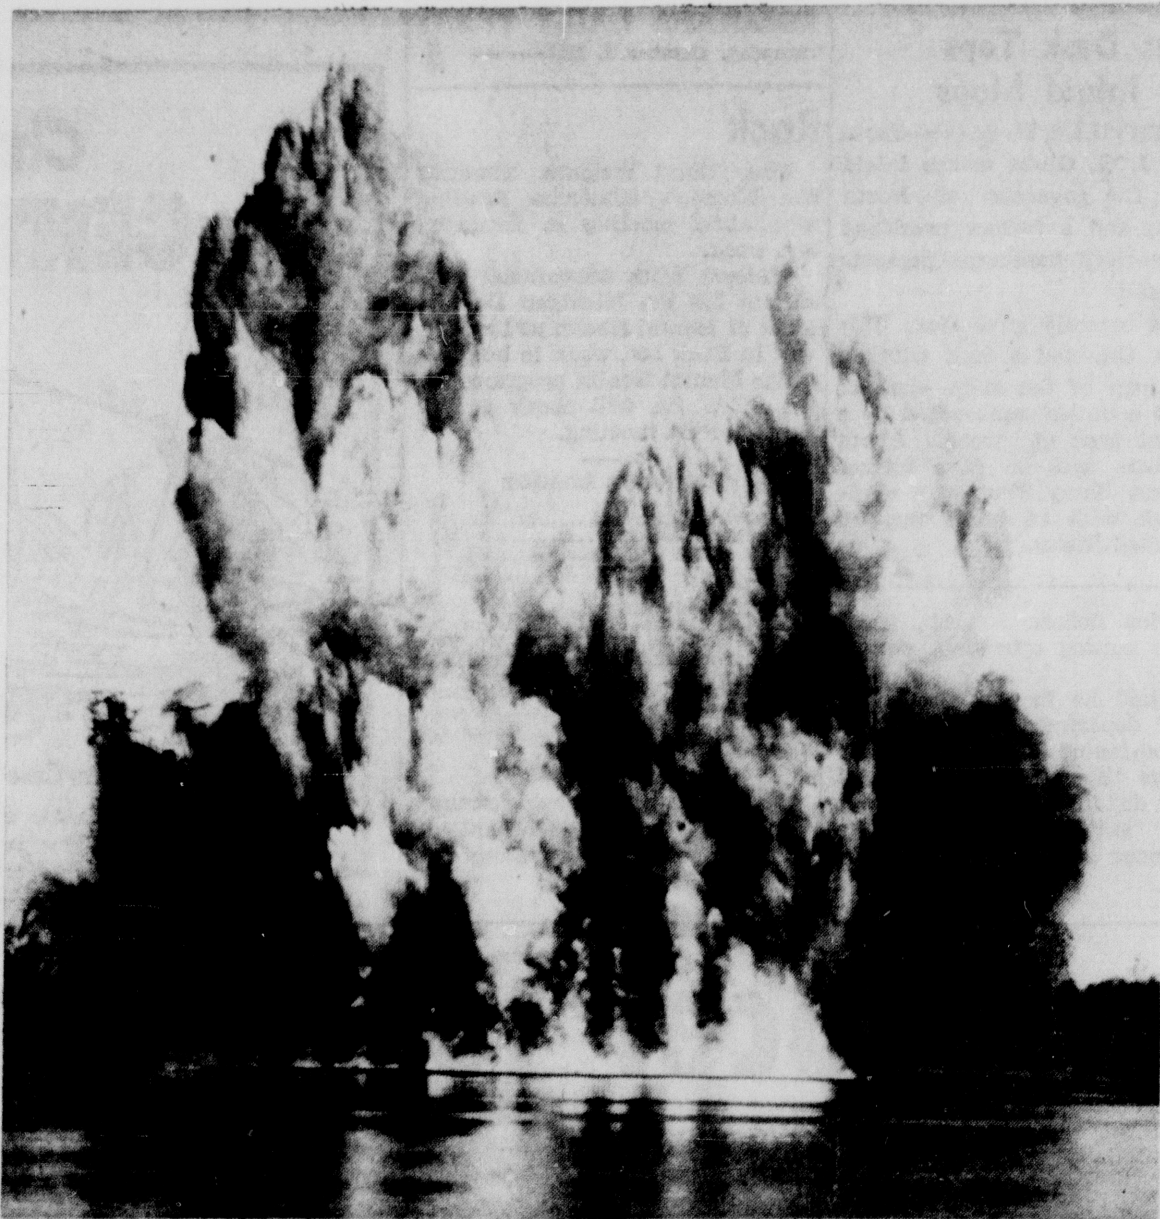

Earlier in the week, AFL President George Meany said it was not the purpose of his labor organization to engage in strike-breaking.

But the interunion rivalry has struck sparks leading to a flareup of strife within the old ILA itself. Several locals already have announced they would switch to the AFL union.

Ironworkers Try To Halt Bloodshed

He said "The union of which I'm business agent will continue to represent those men at Joppa and stand up for their rights. None of our men will join a new local."

Armstrong predicted the striking ironworkers would be expelled from the union.

Reports have circulated that AFL strategy will be to stop its direct pressure to get Local 595 to call off the strike and let the local "spend its money and sweat it out."

The ironworkers struck Sept. 15 when Bechtel Corp., contractor on the 195 million dollar project across the Ohio River from Paducah, refused to hire six of Local 595's men and insisted upon six of its own choice.

Thirty-three other ironworkers walked off the job and pickets were set up. Work was suspended after 10 other crafts on the job refused to cross the picket lines, despite orders from their officers to do so, and 2,000 men were idled.

The ironworkers' International ordered Local 595 to end the walkout on the ground it violated a no-strike pact with Bechtel. Sanders retorted that his union hadn't signed the agreement.

Army Rejects Plan To Send Mothers Of Pink POWs To Korea

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army has rejected as impractical a suggestion that the mothers of 23 Americans who refused to come home from Communist captivity be sent to Korea to plead with their sons.

An Army statement Wednesday said any face-to-face meeting between the 23 Americans and their mothers must await the end of the 120-day period during which "explainer teams" try to reason the men out of their voiced refusal to be repatriated.

The Army offered to accept any message from any relatives of the men. "The secretary of the Army... will see that it is delivered to the individual concerned," the statement said.

Hunters Go Out; Grouse Come In

Grouse hunters today headed for woods and field—while the grouse apparently headed for Escanaba.

One feathered bombshell plunged through the bedroom window at the Henry Dahm home, 1225 Lake Shore Drive, left fluttering to the floor and died.

A second grouse earlier this morning perched on the porch railing at the Clarence Moreau home, 1109 Lake Shore Drive, shortly after Ed Moreau, 18, set out with his gun in search of birds.

"Ed should have stayed home," said his father, Clarence, president of the Delta County Tourist Council.

Both the weather and prospects for game were bright today at the opening of the season on ruffed grouse. Conservation Department officers have reported the grouse population the equal of last year.

Besides grouse, hunters also had the opportunity at noon today to begin duck shooting. Local ducks were "fair" in number with the prospect of good shooting later when flight ducks come down from the north.

Persuasion Has Limits

As a five-star general, Eisenhower achieved wonders in World War II with his knack of persuading people to compromise their conflicting views for the common cause. Also as a five-star general he could order, when necessary, that a workable agreement be produced.

Eisenhower has tried to use this same technique of persuasion in the White House. But persuasion has its limits when there is no authority to order agreements. In cases of violent conflict it seems inevitable that Eisenhower will have to assert a bold personal leadership if he wishes to develop his program as he wants it developed.

Rep. Dingell (D-Mich.), another member, said of a manufacturers' tax: "I'll fight it to the last ditch." He said Wednesday night on a Du Mont television show:

"The most reprehensible kind of sales tax is on the manufacturers' level. If we're going to have a sales tax, let's have it on the retail basis and out in the open."

Rep. Noah Mason (R-Ill.), another committee member, said he was "very glad" to hear the administration was giving up the idea of a retail sales tax.

He said he would support a uniform manufacturers' tax only if it were offered in lieu of the present system of sharply varying excise taxes.

France Pledged 385 Million Aid

WASHINGTON — The United States and France jointly announced plans to step up the anti-Communist war in Indochina with a 385 million dollar increase in American assistance over the next 15 months.

A communique issued by the two governments announced that France "is determined to make every effort to break up and destroy the regular enemy forces in Indochina."

The plans for enlarging the campaign against the Reds, who have long received aid from Communist China, call for (1) increasing the forces of the native governments of Cambodia, Laos and Viet Nam, and (2) temporarily building up French military strength in Indochina "to levels considered necessary to assure the success of existing military plans."

"The additional United States aid," said a communique released here in the State Department, "is designed to help make it possible to achieve these objectives with maximum speed and effectiveness."

The contribution backs up a 400-million dollar sum voted by Congress earlier this year to finance guns, ammunition, planes and equipment needed to continue the 7-year-old Indochina struggle.

Eisenhower Invited

Rock PTA Holds First Meeting Of Coming Year

ROCK — At the first meeting of the current school year, the Rock PTA adopted the theme of Mental Health Education for the PTA programs. Due to the cooperation of Wallace Watt, educational consultant for the Michigan Department of Mental Health at Lansing, it has been possible to adopt this program. Mr. Watt will be the main speaker at the November PTA meeting, Nov. 30. "Looking Behind Behaviors," will be his topic. It would be of interest to fathers as well as parents of pre-school children. Developing discussion leaders in the community is part of the program.

George Kulack, principal, reported that the record player is in use and the electric clock has been installed in the downstairs hall. Treasurer, Vic Mankiewicz reported that six ladders for the Giant Stride have been purchased and are now in use on the playground. This completes last year's PTA projects.

Secretary Mrs. Osma Alto, also chairman for the dance committee, announced that they will still work in their efforts to secure a dancing teacher for those students who are interested.

A discussion followed the report on the dental program by Mrs. Eino Kivela. So far 77 students have signed up, the program is to begin Oct. 6.

Mrs. Albert Weldum gave a report on the Hot Lunch program. A new stainless steel commercial range with ten burners has been installed. A day's menu was read. The parents were urged to have students buy lunch tickets by the month because they would save money and it would save confusion in the office every morning.

New teachers were introduced by George Kulack, namely, Lois Hilleren, Lois Murker and Pete Tinsley. All teachers attended the PTA meeting.

President Arne Johnson announced that at an executive meeting held earlier in the month, the following were selected to head the various committees:

publicity, Mrs. Albert Weldum; hospitality, George Kulack; PTA magazine subscriptions, Mrs. William Johnson dental program, Mrs. Eino Kivela; Hot lunch, Mrs. Albert Weldum; room representative, Mrs. Neils Koski; program, Mrs. John Jokela; membership, Mrs. Victor Mankiewicz.

A committee was selected to work with Mrs. Mankiewicz to launch a membership drive. Special emphasis was placed on obtaining fathers as members.

Mrs. Albert Weldum and Mrs. Claire Horgan volunteered to attend the MEA district meeting in Escanaba on Thursday in behalf of the PTA.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 28, with Mrs. Sulo Ruotsala, first vice president, in charge. "Skiing and the 3 R's" was a short movie shown at the close of the program.

During the "welcome teachers" social hour that followed, lunch was served, while a huge white cake decorated with roses and "Welcome Teachers" on it centered the lunch table.

Governor Lets Boys Keep Deer

RICHMOND, Va. — Two little boys, slicked up in their Sunday best, changed the "established policies of the state" Tuesday and got a deer in return.

It started when Buddy Barrack III, 14, and his brother, Lawrence, 9, called on Gov. John S. Battle to discuss a problem dear to their hearts.

The governor listened to how the youngsters had saved a deer from a pack of dogs last summer. They nursed it, cared for it and named it Bambi.

Then they got the word. State law said the doe had to be turned over to a state game preserve.

That was what the boys went to see Gov. Battle about. Couldn't he use his power and prestige to let them keep the deer?

The governor called State Game Commissioner I. T. Quinn. To let the boys keep the deer would be against the law, but . . .

Late Tuesday, the governor called his secretary and dictated a letter.

"Dear Buddy," it began. "It is seldom that one or two individuals within the space of a few hours can reverse the trend of established policies of the state. But, after considering . . ."

Yes, the governor said, the boys could keep their pet.

Escanaba Woman's Club Marks 40th Anniversary With Luncheon

The Escanaba Woman's Club opened its fall season with an attractive luncheon and entertaining program in observance of its 40th anniversary Wednesday afternoon at the Delta Hotel.

Guest and featured speaker at yesterday's luncheon was Mrs. H. W. Mertins, Iron River, past district president, who gave a descriptive talk on "Highlights of European Travel." Mrs. Mertins related many experiences she and her husband had on their European tour last fall.

They left New York on the ocean liner, United States, upon which they spent five wonderful days. "Life on boat is what you make it" was a statement of Mrs. Mertins. England was their first stop, and the English people made quite an impression on them. They decided that these people were austere, genteel, very proud and loved their royal family. One factor that the Mertins noticed was that England has spent its money under the Marshall Plan for housing.

Charming City

After visiting England, they crossed the channel to Amsterdam, which was quite a rough trip. Amsterdam was charming, so neat and attractive, she said. They were amazed at the thousands of reclaimed acres of land from the sea in Holland.

In Frankfurt, Germany, they were delighted to see the many American soldiers. Mrs. Mertins was very enthusiastic about the German furniture; it was so solid and beautiful. Upon their trip through the Brenner Pass in the Alps, they were amazed at the beauty of the villages situated among the mountains. Mrs. Mertins said that every village had a church in the middle of the homes with their slate roofs, and from far off, a village looked a like flower settled on the mountain. Every home in these villages had a work of art on the outside she said.

The Square of St. Mark's and the bridges made the biggest impression on Mr. and Mrs. Mertins when they visited Venice. They were escorted in Rome by a friend who was connected with the Franciscan Order in the city. They noted the wonderful roads in the city narrow but very durable. The Appian Way is part of the city's regular highway. A deep contrast between the old and new in the city is the modern railroad station, made completely of glass, while not ten feet away, the crumbling Roman wall stands.

Good-Bye at Paris

Great extravagance was shown all along the Italian and French Riviera, the speaker said. Switzerland was like a "little jewel box," and its hotels were better than anywhere else. Berlin was an education they said. The allied section is beautiful, but the Russian sector is a different story. Red banners are hung on everything possible. Their last stop was Paris, very gay, very modern, very historic. Mrs. Mertins said that Paris was the perfect place to say goodbye to Europe.

The most wonderful sight of their whole trip was the Statue of Liberty upon entering New York's Harbor on the Queen Elizabeth, she said.

"Seeing that statue gave me the first feeling of coming down to earth. I felt secure and that I had something to cling to. When people get down on their knees at night, they should say 'God Bless America' because it is wonderful, Mrs. Mertins concluded.

Mrs. Henry Wylie presented "In Commemoration of Our Founding" and Mrs. T. M. Cassidy, chairman of gerontology, gave a pertinent talk on "Life Begins at Forty." The past presidents, Mrs. I. G. English, Mrs. A. E. Ellsworth, Mrs. W. P. Schuldes, Mrs. J. H. Niver, Mrs. W. H. Dickson, Mrs. Henry Wylie and Mrs. H. D. Brackett and the charter members present, Mrs. English, Mrs. W. J. Clark, Mrs. A. T. Hoffman and Miss Josephine Ryan, were introduced by Mrs. Anthony.

New Members Introduced

Mrs. Michael B. Jensen and Miss Ryan introduced the 26 new members of the club and presented them with corsages. They are Mrs. George Bulau, Mrs. Henry A. Donnelly, Mrs. George Easton, Mrs. Ray LeDuc, Mrs. Juel Lee, Mrs. Robert Losse, Mrs. Frank Neumier, Mrs. Charles Thielicke, Mrs. O. W. Wells, Mrs. L. D. Zimmerman, Mrs. Charles Anspaugh, Mrs. J. H. Wisneski, Mrs. Axel Erickson, Mrs. Fanny Mackovitch, Mrs. Henry Spieth, Mrs. Joseph Coplan, Mrs. Robert Krohmer, Mrs. Russell Lee, Miss Stella Nadeau, Mrs. Victor Thorin, Mrs. I. H. Wood, Mrs. Carl Wickman, Mrs. William Shaw, Mrs. Roy Goodman and Mrs. Daniel Sherran.

Luncheon music was played by Thelma. Mrs. Donald LeMire, accompanied by Mrs. M. H. Garrard, led assembly singing of old time songs. Bells of Ireland and cooscomb were effectively grouped in the table decorations, arranged with tapers in candleabra. Attractive placecards in the theme and colors of the decorations were at the places.

A charming anniversary note was a mannikin dressed in a costume worn at the first club meeting, donated by Mrs. T. M. Judson.

The luncheon hostesses were members of the board of the club with James Degnan and Mrs. Norman L. Lindquist, co-chairmen.

Personals

Mrs. Charles Bisbee, 815 S. 10th St., left yesterday for West Bend, Wis., where she will visit with Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Clark. Mrs. Clark, the former Mary Bisbee, is her daughter.

Mrs. L. J. Tonkin and her two children returned Monday to Minneapolis after spending the weekend at the home of Mr. Tonkin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Peterson, 1010 Stephenson Ave. While in Escanaba the Tonkins also visited Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Tonkin, 908 S. 14th St.

Mr. and Mrs. Hjalmar Jacobson returned Monday to Minneapolis after visiting over the weekend with Mr. Jacobson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Magnus Jacobson of Stonington, and with other relatives in Stonington and Escanaba.

Mr. and Mrs. George Champey, 1028 S. 19th St., have returned home after a two weeks' vacation. They visited at Mitchell, S. D., Rochester, Minn., and Wisconsin Rapids, Wis.

Church Events

Noon Dinner For The Whole Family

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Do both Pop and the kids come home at noon? Then chances are you have a real dinner at midday, and that hamburger appears often on your menu. So here's a new, pretty and goo-to-eat way of serving old reliable and budget-wise ground meat. You combine it with fresh tomatoes and cucumbers for a real harvest-time main dish.

When we tried this recipe, we served the youngsters their share of the sauce "as is". To the oldsters' portion, we added a little curry, and found the savory yellow powder gave it a delicious flavor. If the father in your family likes his fare spiced up a bit try this trick.

This dish calls for thrifty liquefied nonfat dry milk. To prepare a quart of the liquefied milk, just shake 3/4 cup nonfat dry milk powder with 4 cups of water in a tightly covered container; use what is needed for this recipe and store the rest in a covered container in the refrigerator. Another method of reliequifying nonfat dry milk powder, which some cooks prefer, is to pour the required amount of water into a bowl and sprinkle the required amount of powder on top of the water; beat slowly with a rotary (hand or electric) beater until dissolved.

Beef And Tomato Stacks

Ingredients: 4 medium-size tomatoes (cut in half) 1 pound ground lean beef, 3 tablespoons liquefied nonfat dry milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Method: Place tomato halves in shallow baking pan. Mix together ground beef, liquefied nonfat dry milk, salt and Worcestershire sauce. Divide mixture evenly into eight portions; shape each into round pattie and place on tomato halves. Bake in moderate (375F) oven 25 to 30 minutes or until meat is thoroughly cooked. Makes 4 servings. Serve with Cucumber Sauce.

Cucumber Sauce
Ingredients: 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, 1 cup liquefied nonfat dry milk, 1/2 cup grated cucumber.

Method: Melt butter over low heat; add flour, salt and pepper; stir until blended. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in liquefied nonfat dry milk until smooth; add cucumber; return to heat. Cook, stirring constantly, over low heat until thickened. Makes about 1 1/4 cups. Serve hot with Beef and Tomato Stacks.

Marilyn Fournier Bride, Wedding At Marquette

The Messiah Lutheran church at Marquette was the scene of a double ring ceremony which united in marriage Miss Marilyn Fournier, daughter of Joseph Fournier, Perkins, to John A. Fredrickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fredrickson, Marquette, Saturday Sept. 26. The Rev. C. A. Lindberg performed the ceremony.

Nuptial music was played by Mrs. Milton Johnson, organist, who also accompanied Mrs. Virginia Jones as she sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly" preceding the ceremony, and "O Perfect Love" as the couple knelt at the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, George Fournier, wore a gown of Swiss lace over satin, with a fitted bodice and long sleeves. Her veil of silk illusion was lace trimmed and secured to a Juliet cap. She carried a colonial bouquet.

Mrs. Frank Nelson was the bride's only attendant. She was a gown of yellow nylon net over taffeta, with a lace jacket over the strapless bodice. She carried a colonial bouquet.

Frank Nelson was best man. Jack Parent and Donald Olson ushered.

The bridegroom's mother wore navy blue sheer, with a corsage of pink flowers.

A wedding dinner for the bridal party was served at the Northwoods. In the evening a reception was held at the Moose lodge.

When the couple left on their wedding trip the bride wore a blue suit, with red accessories and a corsage of red roses. They will leave for California, where they will reside.

The bride is a graduate of Perkins high school and has been employed by the Michigan Bell Telephone company. The bridegroom graduated from Graveret high school and has been employed by the L. S. and I. Railway.

Good Sandwiches 'Invite' Children to Eat Better

SCHOOL SANDWICH SPREAD of liverwurst and currant jelly on enriched bread keeps up his nutrition for vigor and good eating.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

To put more "invitation" into your school children's luncheon sandwiches buy several jars of jams and jellies and combine in spreads with meat, chicken, beans and other good protein foods. The fruit jams and jellies carry their load of vitamins and calories and of course add interest to the luncheon.

Mary Appel, a young home economist who hails from South Dakota, suggests these protein and jam or jelly sandwiches:

Liverwurst and Currant Jelly Sandwiches

(Makes about 1 1/3 cups filling)
One 8-ounce package liverwurst, braunschweiger or liver cheese, 1/4 cup currant jelly, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 tablespoon mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons minced celery.

Remove casing from liverwurst. In a bowl, mash liver sausage until it is smooth. Gradually stir in currant jelly until mixture is well blended. Stir in lemon juice, mayonnaise and celery; mix well. Turn into a refrigerator jar; cover and chill. Spread on buttered, enriched bread for sandwiches.

Most children love cold baked beans. Mix them with apricot preserves and some chopped pickle along with a dash of salt for a very simple, but very good sandwich.

Baked Bean and Apricot Preserves Sandwiches

(Makes about 2 cups filling)
One and one half cups drained baked beans in tomato sauce, 1/4 cup apricot preserves, dash of salt, 1/4 cup chopped fresh cucumber pickle.

In a bowl, mash beans with a fork until the mixture is smooth. Gradually stir in apricot preserves and mix thoroughly.

Blend in salt and pickle. Turn into a refrigerator jar; cover and chill.

Oil Pipeline Soon Is Ready

Laying of the 30-inch crude oil pipeline from St. Ignace to Cooks by Midwestern Constructors Inc., is completed except for the two river crossings at Manistique, E. H. Fahrney, Bechtel Corporation, supervisor, said today.

Crews connected the "Big Inch" with the stretch laid from Cooks west to Crystal Falls by Anderson Bros. Corporation, on Tuesday, he stated.

Trenching of the Manistique River for the pipeline is about completed and crews are to lay the pipe Friday. Crews have yet to drill 35 holes for blasting the trench through the rock bed of the Indian River. Engineers estimate about 76 holes must be punched to cut the 7-foot trench in the Indian River, and workmen are averaging five drills per day. They work from barges in the river.

Both the Manistique and Indian Rivers are about 300 feet at the point of crossing. The Indian River has five feet of water and the Manistique River 13 feet where the line crosses. The pipe will be four feet below the river bed when laid and will be anchored with pairs of concrete slabs, weighing 6,000 pounds, every 19 feet. In the Indian River, holes 11 to 15 feet are dug with well drills, after which charges of 75 to 100 pounds of dynamite are exploded.

Midwestern crews have yet to put backfill on 10 miles of the pipeline and final clean-up remains to be done on 12 miles of the line. Crews have been diminished to 163 as work on the line tapers off.

The stretch here is part of a 635-mile line which will run from Superior, Wis., to Sarnia, Ont. Tests of the line are slated to start at Superior, Wis., between Oct. 1 and 5. Water is forced under pressure to see if the line has leaks. Afterwards oil and air compression are used to clear the pipe of water.

Reserve Officer School Will Be Organized Oct. 7

The Manistique Satellite Branch of the 5906th Organized Reserve School, Detroit, will be organized next Wednesday evening, Oct. 7 at the National Guard Armory.

All reserve officers in the area are eligible to affiliate with this school and are requested to be present. The meeting will begin at 7 p. m.

The Manistique branch will conduct the command and general staff course of the ORC school. It will provide an opportunity for reserve officers in the area to receive inactive duty credits and retirement points and to increase their professional knowledge. Meetings will be held every Wednesday from 7 until 9 p. m.

The first phase of the command and general staff curriculum will be taught. This comprises work in the duties of commanders and staff officers at the division level. It is emphasized that all reserve officers of the Navy, Air Force, Marines and Coast Guard, as well as National Guard officers, may be enrolled.

Col. John W. Kelly of Manistique will command the Satellite School. Reserve officers are expected to attend from Manistique, Escanaba, Newberry, Gould City and Rexton.

The rally, which will be held in the high school auditorium beginning at 8 p. m., is the third of its kind in Manistique. It commemorates Reformation Sunday.

Speakers for the observance here will be Dr. Clayton Morrison, outstanding religious leader and journalist. He is the author of several best-selling books, the latest of which is "The Unfinished Reformation."

Mueller Township Cemetery Transfer Slated This Fall

Messier-Broullire Funeral Home has received the contract for removal of bodies from two acres of cemetery property in Mueller township which is to be transferred to the state for a highway relocation. Fay Patterson, Mueller township clerk, reports.

The cemetery property is to be ready for transfer by Nov. 15, he said. It is not known how many bodies will be disinterred, but at least eight are buried in that part of the cemetery, Patterson noted.

Relocation of Highway 77 in Mueller township will place it 75 feet east of its present location. The state will allow the township $1445 for the land and costs of transferring bodies.

Transfer of the property was approved in a special township election Sept. 28.

New Auto Use Tax Explained

Under a new law passed by the 1953 Michigan Legislature, a three per cent use tax computed on the price paid an unlicensed dealer for a used car must be charged after Oct. 2, Gordon L. Denny, manager of the Secretary of State's office in Manistique, reports.

If a used car is bought from a dealer, the purchaser will pay the three per cent sales tax, as in the past. But if the used car is purchased from anyone who is not a licensed dealer, the three per cent use tax must be paid before the transfer of title and license can be made, he explained.

Both taxes are collected by the local secretary of state office when application is made for transfer of title.

The only exemptions from the new use tax, Denny reports, are gifts that may be proven bona fide, gifts to a beneficiary in the administration of an estate, on titles issued to a lienholder upon repossession of an automobile, and sales by a public official in the administration of law.

Automobiles involved in a trade, when no actual money is exchanged, are considered sales under the new law and the three per cent use tax must be paid on each auto involved in the trade, Denny noted. The tax in such cases is based on the fair cash value, and persons acquiring the auto in this manner should ask a licensed dealer if they do not know the fair cash value, he added.

Ground Observers Will Meet Oct. 7

Leaders in various Manistique community organizations are being asked to attend a meeting Oct. 7 to organize a Ground Observers Corps in Manistique.

A new supervisor, Donald MacLean, has been appointed by the Manistique Veterans of Foreign Wars and plans for activation of a GOC unit now are underway.

All interested persons are invited to attend the special meeting, in the VFW clubrooms, next Wednesday night. The meeting originally slated Oct. 5, begins at 8 p. m.

Rev. Reo Clyde and John Manning are recruiters for the Manistique GOC. Any person of high school age and older is eligible to participate in activities of the sky-watch unit.

Library Marks Newspaper Week With Exhibits

The Manistique Public Library is observing National Newspaper Week, October 1 to 8, with an exhibit based on its theme: "Freedom of Information." This is a part of a state-wide program by librarians and newspapermen, who share the same ideals and purposes on intellectual freedom.

Mrs. Loretta D. Fyan, State Librarian, in a letter to the Michigan Press Association has declared:

"The theme of National Newspaper Week—Freedom of Information—is particularly appropriate in these days when the American people must be kept constantly aware of the grave events and decisions upon which their very lives depend. Newspaper men and librarians have always been in the vanguard of those who maintain the right of citizens to be fully informed and have ready access to all points of view."

Medium For New Ideas

"In no other way can our people stand unafraid and act intelligently to shape their future. As we hail America's free press, we join your observance with the deep conviction that we stand together to defend the vital freedom of information in the interest of knowledge and enlightenment for all the people."

Librarians, at their national conference, recently adopted a statement on "Freedom to Read," one important aspect of freedom of information. It reads in part:

"Now as always in our history, books are among our greatest instruments of freedom. They are almost the only means for making generally available ideas or manners of expression that can initially command only a small audience. They are the natural medium for the new idea and the untapped voice, from which come the original contributions to social growth."

Constitutional Guarantee

"We believe that free communication is essential to the preservation of a free society and a creative culture. We believe that these pressures towards conformity present the danger of limiting the range and variety of inquiry and expression on which our democracy and our culture depend."

"We believe that every American community must jealously guard the freedom to publish and to circulate in order to preserve its own freedom to read. We believe that publishers and librarians have a profound responsibility to give validity to that freedom to read by making it possible for the reader to choose freely from a variety of offerings."

"The freedom to read is guaranteed by the Constitution. Those with faith in free men will stand firm on these constitutional guarantees of essential rights and will exercise the responsibilities that

Court Awards Judgment Here

Circuit court here opened at 2 p. m., Monday, at which time jurors, who were to report Tuesday, were dismissed.

Only four criminal cases were on the calendar this term. Two cases, those of the People versus Paul W. McPherson and the People versus Harold E. Gauthier, were continued. The criminal case of the People versus Jack Beaudoin, manslaughter, was continued for sentence at Sault Ste. Marie Oct. 7. Another criminal case, that of the People versus Alfred Swanson, was remanded to justice court.

Find Pair Guilty Of Gun Charge

A justice court jury found Ed Dillabough, 419 Delta Avenue, Gladstone, and James Loper, Route 1, Gladstone, guilty as charged of transporting firearms in game area during the 15-day period immediately preceding opening of the small game season following trial yesterday before Justice of Peace A. Theodore Sohlberg.

Justice Sohlberg imposed fines of $25 each and aggregate court costs of $57.30. The alternative sentence was 30 days in jail each.

Notice of appeal to circuit court was immediately filed by Attorney Alger Strom, defense counsel, and bond was furnished to assure appearance.

Serving on the jury were E. C. Krout, Frank Brown, Rex Coulter, E. A. Lawin, Louis Frantz and Bernard DeHooghe.

The arrests were made on Sunday, Sept. 20, by Conservation Officers Glenn Price of Gladstone and Robert Bezzi of Rapid River. The officers under questioning of County Prosecutor Nicholas Chapek testified following an auto which later turned out to be driven by Dillabough on old US-41 north of Rapid River after hearing a shot fired a short distance from where they were patrolling, of the chase which ensued during which a third man carrying a gun jumped from the auto when it slowed while turning onto new US-41 after taking a cutoff road westerly from the old road, and how the chase progressed south on 41 at high speed until they reached the Rapid River "Y" where traffic aided the officers in stopping the car.

Defense counsel contended Michigan law provided that small game licenses were valid from Oct. 1 until Sept. 30 the following year and this gave the licensee the privilege of hunting small game the year round and thus the right to have firearms in possession.

One Sign He Couldn't Ignore

HERINGTON, Kan. (AP)—Two Abilene fishermen, bound for a favorite stream, ignored a "road closed" sign and kept on going.

Two miles farther down the road they ran into a washed-out bridge.

On the way back they saw the other side of the "road closed" sign. It read: "So there, smartie, it was closed, wasn't it."

Gilding Capitol Dome Took Lots Of Gold

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—It takes a lot of gold leaf to cover a dome. Workmen recently covered the 60-foot copper dome atop New Jersey's State Capitol Building with 24-carat gold leaf. The job required about 240 troy ounces of the leaf, which cost some $8,500, three coats of lead paint and a coat of sizing.

Fire Alarm Last Night Is False

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

Green Bay West, the opening home foe for the Escanaba Eskymos this season, hasn't slikted their pace a bit since beating the Eskys 57-0 on Sept. 12. Since then Coach Prosen's Wildcats have turned back Sheboygan Central 41-0 and Fond du Lac 37-0. That's a total of 135 points in three games while holding the opponents scoreless.

Officials of the Northern Michigan Hockey League will hold a reorganizational meeting for the 1953-54 season in Laurium Sunday. The Menominee Maroons have gone 19 games without a defeat in prep football. Green Bay West is working on a string of 19 straight grid wins and meets Appleton on Friday. Ironwood players and coaches took a good look at Menominee when the Maroons tangled with the Eskymos here Saturday. The teams meet at Ironwood on Oct. 9. And Ironwood plays Escanaba here Oct. 31.

Fred Barry, Calumet halfback, is setting a torrid pace among Upper Peninsula backfield stars. He took the sting out of Calumet's 19-13 loss to Park Falls over the weekend by setting up the first Calumet touchdown and then thrilling the fans with a dazzling 75 yard TD with five minutes remaining in the game. He has scored 58 points in four games. Against Calumet he gained 234 yards by his four-game total to 986 yards in 115 trips with the ball. Barry has scored TDs on runs of 77, 75, 46, 42, 38, 38, 33 and 2 yards.

We'd like to pass on suggestions recently advanced by the Marinette Lions Club before a Marinette High School grid game: "Fellow fans. Good sportsmanship is nothing more than good manners. The game is for the students. We are just paying guests. So let's not upset their game with our unsportsmanlike conduct. Rather, follow the good example set by the students and make the visiting team glad they came here no matter what the outcome of the game may be. A few pointers to remember: 1—Applaud skillful plays by the opponents; 2—Cheer good plays by our team, but don't deride a player or the team if something doesn't work the way you thought it should; 3—Don't boo the officials. They are honest and impartial. It's you who have the prejudice; 4—Don't shout comments at the coaches. They have enough to do without impolite annoyances from the stands."

Eskymos Primed For Invasion Of Kingsford Gridiron Friday

In high spirits after a determined showing here last week against a strong Menominee Maroon outfit, the Escanaba Eskymos are primed today for their invasion of Kingsford Friday night.

"The boys have been working hard this week and are set to go all-out against the Flivvers tomorrow night," Coach Joe Milonka said today. "We've gained a lot of experience since the season started and it should be ready to pay off this weekend."

Physically, the Eskymos will still be below full strength against Kingsford, with halfback Pat McDonough still on the disabled list and center Arni Dunathan out of action. Dave Judson, back, has shaken off a leg injury and may return to action.

Seek First Win

The Eskymos will be seeking to break into the win column for the first time this season. They have suffered three losses to Sault Ste. Marie, Green Bay West and Menominee in one of the most murderous opening schedules in the school's history. All three teams that the Eskymos lost to are still undefeated at this date.

The game will be in the form of a homecoming for the Escanaba mentor. He coached at Kingsford before moving to take over the Escanaba grid reins last year.

The Flivvers are currently coached by Rae Drake, former Stambaugh High School athlete and a graduate of Michigan State College.

Kingsford will enter the game

Aragon And Fuentes Will Fight Friday

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two top ranking welterweights, Art Aragon and Ramon Fuentes, both of Los Angeles, meet in a 10-round bout at the Olympic Auditorium Friday night.

Casey Admits 'Boys Played Pretty Good'

NEW YORK (AP)—Grizzled Casey Stengel, manager of the New York Yankees, admitted "the boys played pretty good," after the Yankees' victory over Brooklyn Wednesday in the opening game of the 1953 World Series, but there was a tone of respect in his voice for the Dodgers.

The National League flag-winners "knew how to play ball," he said. "You gotta be alive to play 'em."

The Yankee dressing room was comparatively quiet. The players, taking the victory in stride, simply smiled about starting the series on the right foot and settled down to showering and dressing.

Pleased With Sain

Stengel said, "Allie Reynolds just ran out of gas, that's all," when asked about lifting his starting pitcher in the sixth inning.

Later, however, the ace right-hander revealed that he had wrenched his back in the third inning and said, "This may finish me for the series."

Stengel, pleased with Johnny Sain's relief job, said, "he got out

Braves Polish Up For Newberry On Saturday

GLADSTONE — Fundamentals as well as polishing offensive plays marked workouts this week at Coach Don Pfothner's prepared his Gladstone High School Braves for their clash with the Newberry Indians at Marble Athletic Field on Saturday.

It will be the first of three home games, the Braves being scheduled to meet Ishpeming and Stephenson on the following two successive weekends before winding up the season against the Eskymos at Escanaba on Oct. 24.

The Braves looked impressive at times in their victory over the highly touted Marquette eleven last Saturday. Effective passing by Quarterback Francis Peterson kept the Marquette defense back and enabled the Braves' backs to break through the Redmen's forward wall for sizable gains.

Numerous bumps and bruises were acquired in the hard fought game. Tom Brewer, who played a great game at guard, has a bruised muscle but is expected to be ready to go Saturday.

Fullback Joe Corbiel, who has been one of the chief ground gainers on the eleven, has been out of school with a throat infection and hasn't even been suited up this week. He is expected to have recovered by Saturday but if not, sophomore fullback Walter Houghton will be in his place.

Dick Rivers, injured in the second quarter, will probably see limited action and Center Rod

Kelley and Back Bob Burton have charley horses but are expected to be ready by the weekend.

Ed Farrell and Roger Carlson, injured the previous weekend, will be back but there is a question of how much action they will see.

Munising Booster Foe For Emeralds Friday

MANISTIQUE — A "rough, tough" football game is promised when the Manistique Emeralds, fresh from a 19-6 victory over the Newberry Indians, take on the Munising Mustangs in a booster game here Friday night at Hall field.

The two teams are evenly matched and the outcome is rated a toss-up, Coach Richard Bonifas reports.

Munising has beaten Gladstone, Negaunee and Stephenson and lost only to the Soo Blue Devils, who remain undefeated. Manistique's Emeralds have downed Stephenson, Gladstone and Newberry, losing only to Newberry.

Both teams have identical records in Great Lakes Conference standing, and will be fighting to hold their margin. At stake will be second place standing in the conference race.

Offensively Munising has scored 64 points and Manistique 58. Defensively the Mustangs have held opponents to 39 points, of which the Soo scored 33. Manistique has held opponents to 19 points.

Backfield weights of the two teams are fairly even, Coach Bonifas notes. In the line Manistique will be outweighed about eight pounds per man.

Physically the Emeralds are in "good shape," the coach points out, and Darryl Bertrand, Gerald Walstrom and Pat LaFave, who were on the injured list the past two weeks, are expected to be back in action. Alroy Mersnick, who

DALLAS WINS TITLE

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas had its first Dixie Series championship in seven years today. The Texas league champions whipped Nashville of the Southern Association, 4-2, Wednesday night to sew up the Dixie Series four games to two.

One Thing For Sure: Gophers Have Sellout

EDITOR'S NOTE: What can Michigan State expect when it faces Minnesota Saturday? In the following story, Jim Klobuchar of the Associated Press in Minneapolis gives a rundown on Minnesota's strong and weak points.

By JIM KLOBUCHAR

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minnesota's Gophers have faced sunnier opening day prospects before but it's doubtful if spectator magnetism has been as intense as it is today on the eve of the battle Saturday against Michigan State.

A Memorial Stadium sellout already has been assured. The expected crowd of between 64,000 and 65,000 will represent a record opening day attendance here.

Michigan State's defending national champions collide with a Minnesota team which is battling to regain the national prominence it held for a decade and then mysteriously lost.

The Gophers this year have a matchless Paul Giel, a consistently dangerous backfield and a determined, if slow-footed forward wall. But the Minnesotans also have a murderous early season schedule which matched them first against Rose Bowl champion Southern California.

Minnesota's 17-7 loss to Southern Cal followed form almost to the letter. Coach Wes Fesler explained it this way: "We met a stronger team with the added advantage of an earlier game. We were willing and tough, our tackling was sound, but we just weren't fast enough."

That lack of overall team speed is at the bottom of Minnesota's problems this year. The team has 30 lettersmen and an imaginative attack pivoting on Giel. But, Fesler says, "There's nothing you can do when they run past you."

Fesler probably will shoot the full scope of his tricky offense at the Spartans. That includes single wing, T and a spread calculated to use Giel's artistry to the fullest.

Yankees Grab Opening Win In World Series

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK (AP)—The team widely acclaimed as the greatest hitting outfit in modern National League annals, the Brooklyn Dodgers, took to batting against the New York Yankees at the outset of the 1953 World Series.

The Yanks led, 1 to 0, after the resultant 9 to 5 victory. When the Dodgers started hitting home runs, the Yankees replied in kind. When the Dodgers belted Allie Reynolds from the hill and pulled abreast at 5-5, the world champions came alive again and knocked out their decisive 9-5 victory, going away.

Called Two Bunts

As fans discussed the three hours and 10 minute struggle three subjects were uppermost. The first concerned the mental gymnastics of Manager Charlie Dressen of Brooklyn in ordering two straight bunts at the juncture when his team was threatening to break the opening contest wide open. The second had to do with the throwing hand of Roy Campanella, the Brooklyn catcher. The third was Reynolds' aching back.

Whether Campanella will be able to operate at 100 per cent capacity in the remaining games could mean the difference between a Yankee sweep and such a tingling seven-game thriller as the same two teams waged a year ago.

The squad Brooklyn backstop was struck on the right hand by one of Reynolds' fast balls in the second inning. For the remainder of the game Campanella could grip neither his bat nor the ball snugly.

Won't Have X-Ray

Wednesday night the hand was swollen, and Campanella refused to have an x-ray made. He said he intended to play in today's game. All year the Dodgers have gone as Campanella went. When he was coming through with his long hits, Dressen's men won. When he was in a slump the Dodgers were just another ball club. If he is seriously handicapped, you may start measuring Stengel for his five - time halo.

The wisdom of Charlie Dressen in ordering two straight batters to lay the ball down in the seventh inning Wednesday was a subject of "second guessing."

The situation was this: The Dodgers, trailing by 4-5, rapped Johnny Sain at the outset of the seventh inning for three straight singles, pushing across the tying run. They had runners on first and second with nobody out.

The bottom of Dressen's batting order was up—Billy Cox No. 8 and Clem Labine, his third pitcher, No. 9. The Brooklyn pilot had either to go for a big inning or to try to move the leading run around to third. He chose the latter.

Cuts Down Runners

Cox bunted and catcher Yogi Berra snapped the dribbler and fired to Gil McDougald at third as Gil Hodges went tearing in. It was close as the next heart beat, but umpire Art Gore ruled it a putout.

Labine tried it too, and this time

Berra pegged Carl Furillo out at third with a stride to spare. Junior Gilliam then sent up a pop foul to end the Dodger threat.

Reynolds, the Yankee bellwether, departed in the sixth after his back had broken down and he had been scalped by three home runs. The Chief said it may have ended his series work. Stengel, however, was optimistic that he might be available for a few innings of relief work, if needed.

Michigan Army Sergeant Killed

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A Michigan Army sergeant died in the flaming wreckage of a small private plane that plunged into the corner of a house in northwest Phoenix Tuesday night.

The victim was Sgt. William Root, 41, of Decatur. He was killed while taking off for a return flight to Camp Cook, Calif.

Root was attempting to make a forced landing when his plane hit telephone wires and flipped against the house, tearing a huge hole in it.

A 10-year-old boy in the house was slightly injured by flying debris.

At Decatur, word of Sgt. Root's death shocked his parents, Mr. and

How Much Should Man Tell Wife About His Job?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"How much should a man tell his wife about his work?"

A young fellow, just married, asked this question. And it is a hard one to answer.

It is a problem that comes up in almost every marriage, particularly as a result of the modern theory that matrimony is a 50-50 deal, except on payday, and the partners in it should share their troubles as well as their jobs.

What a man should tell his wife about his work depends a great deal upon his job and the kind of wife he has.

O. K. For Undertakers

A husband should not instinctively resent it if, now and then, his wife expresses a curiosity in the conditions of his servitude during those hours in which he is out of range of her gentle, guiding voice. It is only normal for her to wonder how he gets along without her advice for eight hours a day.

Some husbands believe firmly in telling their wives everything they want to know about their work. In some callings, say you are an undertaker's assistant, for example, this theory works out very well. In an hour you can solve the whole problem for a lifetime.

It doesn't work out so well, however, in such professions as bank robbing. For some reason bank robbers have to brag every time they come home after a hard day's looting and the little woman asks, "how much did you rob today, dear?" They go into details.

Two Platoon Boss

And what happens? The next time they bruise the wife's feelings with an unkind remark—or if the amount they bring home is $1,000 or so under the amount mentioned in the newspaper accounts of their latest robbery—off she trots to the police station with her idle chatter. One of the greatest occupational hazards of bank robbing is marrying the wrong kind of woman.

If you have an ordinary job in office or factory, and start telling your wife about it, she sometimes begins to feel she knows more about it than you. Quite often she is right, too. You then have the two-platoon boss system—one at work, one at home, and both telling you how to do your job better. The solution in this case is to try to get your employer to hire her instead of you. Then you can stay at home and dream up new ways to make her more efficient than your old job.

Four members represented the four H's, heart, head, hand and health. The American and the 4-H flags were also displayed.
